

1.

Driver should not change lanes or turn across the double white lines..

2.

Railroad Crossing. You are within a few hundred feet of a railroad crossing. You should slow down and be prepared to stop. If you see a train coming—STOP—never try to beat it.

3.

The lane that has this sign above it exits ahead.

4.

Gate and Flashing Light. Stop when the lights begin to flash before the gate lowers across your side of the road. Remain stopped until the gates are raised and the lights stop flashing.

5.

Do not park, stop, or stand your vehicle in a parking space reserved for disabled persons unless your vehicle has a disabled license plate or windshield identification card.

6.

Railroad Crossbuck signs are posted at every railroad, highway, road, or street grade crossing and show the location. If more than one track is to be crossed, it will show the number of tracks. Always slow, look, listen, and be prepared to yield the right-of-way to an approaching train.
